

SOCIETY

KIND WORDS.

A kind word now and then, my boys.

A kind word here and there,

Will find the weary world with joys.

And banish clouds of care;

Though life may sometimes seem all wrong.

And heaven far away,

Don't lose your grip; just peg along,

You'll find that pluck will pay.

Don't be ashamed nor 'fraid, my boys

To show that you're a heart,

Be bold and undismayed, my boys,

But act a kindly part,

Don't wait until your friends are dead.

Their virtues to unfold;

Kind words in time, and timely said,

Are worth their weight in gold.

Don't lean too much on prayers, my boys.

Just find your text in acts;

Be true and fair and square, my boys.

Such preaching's full of facts.

With kind words now and then, my boys,

Let's fill the weary world with joys

And banish clouds of care.

Surprise Party for Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Mary Johnson was agreeably surprised Monday evening when a number of her friends gathered to commemorate his birthday anniversary.

Enjoyable Victrola music was furnished throughout the evening and this intermingled with peasant conversation made the affair a delightful one.

Later refreshments of punch, fruit and cake were served and at a later hour the guests departed wishing the honoree many happy returns.

JOINT HOSTES FOR WESTMINSTER GUILD

The Westminster Guild of the Central Presbyterian Church was entertained Monday afternoon with Mrs. Fred Mirant and Mrs. H. N. Noel as hostesses at the home of the latter. Refreshments were served.

The usual lesson was carried out and during the social session refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The special guests of the afternoon included Mrs. Rasmussen and Miss Pietz of Englewood, Kans.

Women Wireless Operators.

Fifty women are studying to be wireless operators. Miss Bonnell of Philadelphia has become so efficient that she has set up her own apparatus and helped to wire the tables used by the students of the class. To receive a license a woman must be able to take and send at least five words per minute. In the event of war these women will be fitted to take the place of the men who have been sent to the front. In exchange the government should permit them to take places at the tailor box if these women are competent to discharge the duties requiring much more intelligence than the franchise exacts from men. With all sex lines abolished in education and economics, it is an anachronism to maintain sex lines at the voting booth. Justice, common justice, is all women ask — Austin American.

PALE DURO MAY BECOME POPULAR PLEASURE RESORT.

Esthethically inclined Amarilloans see in the creation of a great lake in Pale Duro, 18 miles southwest of Amarillo, as proposed by the new water company if granted a franchise by the city, the development of a great pleasure resort for this section during summers. Many are advocating the matter of having the Pale Duro dammed so as to impound a great body of clear water and create a great fishing preserve, where at a later date the government might be induced to install a large fish hatchery for the Panhandle and Plains country.

In times past, it was pointed out, Pale Duro was visited almost daily by large parties on outings, fishing excursions and the like. The distance was somewhat of a handicap, but with the installation of a large lake and pleasure grounds such as would spring up, advocates believe that a street railway system would be laid and it would become the mecca for thousands of visitors annually. As an asset for Amarillo, it could not be exceeded, it was stated.

THREE LICENSES TO MARRY ARE TAKEN OUT HERE

During the month of April, which is far spent, there have been but three marriage licenses issued by County Clerk Sam B. Stollon. This is far short of the usual number issued. It is stated, showing that there is quite a contrast with Potter County and Chicago, where more than a thousand were issued in a day, most of the latter being "war grooms and brides." The following are the latest issued:

Robert Reeves and Miss Nora Jones; N. A. Brunne and Miss Bertie Caldwell; Jose de la Torre and Miss Josefina Hernandez.

OMA LINK PROVES BRIGHT STAR IN TITLE ROLE OF "MELUSINA"

FAIRLY LARGE NUMBER ATTEND MATINEE AND NIGHT PERFORMANCES ON OPENING OF MUSIC FESTIVAL HERE.

Omnia Link, hardly more than a "skip of a girl," won her way to the hearts of Amarillo music lovers last night, portraying the title role of the cantata, "Melusina." It was the second and concert piece in the fourth annual spring music festival, under the direction of Prof. E. F. Meyers.

As Melusina, she was quite the star of the evening. Miss Link is beautiful, graceful, possessed of a remarkable soprano voice, and has the knowledge to combine dramatic effects with her singing. The young star had, at the end of the performance, the satisfaction of knowing, although she probably did not know it, that she had made a hit, even if her debut was made under conditions which might have been trying to another.

But, to return to the main thread of the story, the cantata "Melusina" was given in the Olympic Grand Theatre last night before hardly more than half a house, and a not very appreciative audience at that.

The Story Melusina.

Melusina, so the story goes, was queen of the water nymphs, who captured the heart of Count Raymond, a sporty young Niomed with a large following, who saw Melusina while on one of his hunting parties. She consents to marry him, with the provision that every seventh day she shall cast aside her mortality and become a nymph again. While a nymph, he is not to seek her. This being done, the people of Raymond's domain, including his mother, Clotilda, and his uncle, Sintram, grow suspicious of her week-end absences, believing that Raymond has been beguiled by a witch. To satisfy them, Raymond promises to look for her on the next seventh day. He finds her, but in doing so, has broken his oath, and after a few caresses, dies in her arms.

Count Raymond was played by Harry Holland, tenor, who sang his part well, but lacked histrionic effect. The short lived roles of Clotilda and Sintram were taken by Miss Ruth Sears (solo) and "Mr. Grimm," as the program announced, a rich soprano.

The choruses at the outset had a bad attack of stage fright. The male chorus, formed Count Raymond's retinue, and the female chorus, composed Queen Melusina's loyal subjects.

Cantata Well Sung.

The cantata was well sung. Melusina's confession of her love for Raymond in the first act in which Miss Link was on the stage, was given with a fine vocal effect. The short lived roles of Clotilda and Sintram were taken by Miss Ruth Sears (solo) and "Mr. Grimm," as the program announced, a rich soprano.

CONVERTED JEW OPENS REVIVAL FIRST OF MAY

Rev. J. S. Flax, a former Jew, will begin a revival meeting at the First Congregational Church, Fourth and Hudson Streets, May 1. It was announced this morning. The series of meetings will extend until May 23, beginning every evening at 7:45 o'clock. No collections will be taken at any of the services.

Rev. Mr. Flax is from St. Louis and has been in revival meetings since his conversion. Some remarkable revivals have been held and wherever he has been he has received the unstinted commendation of the people. It was stated. —W.H.

SPIRITING AWAY WITNESS IS CHARGED AGAINST MAN

Federal agents have been investigating the conduct of the Indians, who still hold out. Judge George W. Jones, presiding in that office, in his decision in Justice Week's journal, the term "Indian" is not expected to continue much longer, as the Indians are no longer to be found in their original homes, but are scattered over the country.
